RocketReader With Key For Windows

RocketReader is an easy-to-use, effective and unique training software for developing skills needed to read fast and accurately. It can be downloaded and launched from the Internet. Training time is less than ten minutes, after which you will be able to read up to 50% faster than before. Over the course of a few weeks of daily practice, your reading speed and comprehension will be significantly improved. RocketReader uses a revolutionary 'Glance Reading' method. This involves not reading the words, but scanning them rapidly to identify the meaning. The brain learns to quickly recognize a pattern and the meaning of the text. RocketReader gives you the chance to practice on your choice of Web sites, reading news, articles, and memos. The Web sites that are included with the system are all freely available to you and are designed to be of real value to you. RocketReader has over 10,000 downloadable Web sites, including major news providers, universities, and medical sites. These sites can be downloaded and run offline to save on your computer's network capacity. Also included with the software is a SAT test preparation module. It has a built-in SAT test engine, or you can use any other test that contains questions that can be used to train your speed reading skills. RocketReader allows you to practice on up to 50 Web sites simultaneously. The program can also be launched on a network and the number of Web sites that can be run simultaneously is limitless. RocketReader can be downloaded from the Internet and run on any platform that is capable of running Internet software. It can be launched from any Web browser, including Internet Explorer, Opera and Netscape Navigator. What users are saying: "RocketReader was just as advertised. It's very fast and easy to use. I bought the upgrade and am pleased with the results. I expect to read about 2x faster than normal." "I recommend it to anyone who wants to read faster and more efficiently." "I just got home from a weekend of reading and practising with RocketReader. My ability to absorb information seems to be greatly improved. I can't wait to get back at work and read more!" "I have been using RocketReader for a few days now and I can't get my head around how quickly it can read. I can already read 50% faster than before!" "RocketReader is a great idea, works really well and has helped me pick up more reading. I'm sure it'll help me
